

ḥ ρ Π

The image shows a stylized, black, calligraphic representation of the Hebrew word 'חור' (Chor). The letters are thick and angular, with sharp points and a dynamic, almost abstract quality. The first letter 'ח' (Chet) is on the left, followed by 'ו' (Vav) in the middle, and 'ר' (Resh) on the right. The letters are interconnected, with the 'ו' and 'ר' sharing a common vertical stroke. The overall style is reminiscent of modern Hebrew calligraphy or a graphic design interpretation of the word.